Did You Lock Your Keys In the Car?

Several weeks ago I heard someone telling the story of how they came out of the mall and the person next to them was using a coat hanger to try and get into their car. The person thought they might be breaking into someone else's car so they said, "Did you lock your keys in the car?" The person didn't think their question was funny and so he shot back, "No, I am hanging out my laundry." We ask stupid questions all the time.

We usually know the answer to the question, but we just want to verify that what we are asking is true. The most important question we might ask someone is, "Do you know for sure where you are going when you die?"

Can You Help Us?

We need your help. Will you try and invite at least one or two people to be with us on our Homecoming Sunday, June 3rd?

We also need you to invite someone to come to our Church service. We have flyers in the racks at the back of the Church. If everyone would take five of these and give them to people we would greatly appreciate it. During this next week if everyone worked hard to get a couple of people to be in our services it would be a great boost for our Church as well as this preacher. I have spent several hours passing out flyers and promoting our Church in the community and if you would do this small favor for me it would make my day.

If you don't expect great things, you won't get great things. If you work hard and expect great things God will give the increase. Can I count on you?

I just have one more request and everyone no matter how old or young can help with this one. Each morning beginning tomorrow for seven days will you pray each morning this prayer? "God will you please bless our Church in a special way this next month. Provide for our Church in a special way. Empower our Pastor with Holy Spirit power."

Thank you so much for your support!!!!

I asked that question the other day and the person I ask acted like I was asking a stupid question. Nobody can know where they are going after they die was their response. Praise God we have the answer of how they can know where they are going after they die and we can share it with them so they can be sure they are going to Heaven and not Hell.

In Romans 10:9-13, we have several verses we can use to help someone to be able to answer the question of where they are going after they die. You will need to explain to them what they are being saved from because usually they don't know. But when you tell them, if they call on the name of the Lord that He will save them from their sins it sure will be a great help in leading them in the right direction so they will know where they are going.

Many people don't really think about what is going to happen to them after they die and as a Christian we ought to share with them the good news that Jesus died and paid for their sins so they can have eternal life.

If you are reading this and don't know where you are going when you die, I beg of you to call upon the Lord to save you from your sins before it is eternally too late. Jesus died that you might have life and have it more abundantly.

"Call To Glory"

A Sunday school teacher asked her children as they were on the way to church service, "And why is it necessary to be quiet in church?"

One bright little girl replied, "Because people are sleeping."

After the dedication of his baby brother in church, Jason sobbed all the way home in the back seat of the car. His father asked him three times what was wrong.

Finally, the boy replied, "The preacher said he wanted us brought up in a Christian home, and I wanted to stay with you guys."
